Seer Data & Analytics Gender Equality Statement

At Seer Data & Analytics, we're deeply committed to gender equality, fostering an environment where every individual, regardless of gender, has equal opportunities and respect.

Seer Data proudly ensures equal pay for equal work, recognising and valuing the contributions of all employees equally. Family and career balance is important to us, so we support working parents by offering paid parental leave.

Through ongoing education, inclusive policies, and a supportive workplace culture, we strive to break down gender barriers and empower every member of our team to thrive. Together, we're building a future where gender equality isn't just a concept but a lived reality.

Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) and Anti Bullying

Policy

This policy applies to all employees including contractors and covers all work-related functions and activities including external training courses sponsored by Seer Data. It also applies for all recruitment, selection and promotion decisions. The objective of Seer Data's Equal Opportunity Policy is to improve business success by:

- attracting and retaining the best possible employees
- providing a safe, respectful and flexible work environment
- delivering our services in a safe, respectful and reasonably flexible way

Discrimination, Sexual Harassment and Bullying

Seer Data is committed to providing a workplace free from discrimination, sexual harassment and bullying. Behaviour that constitutes discrimination, sexual harassment or bullying will not be tolerated and will lead to action being taken, which may include dismissal. For the purposes of this policy, the following definitions apply:

Direct discrimination occurs when someone is treated unfavourably because of a personal characteristic that is protected under NSW law.

Indirect Discrimination occurs when a rule seems neutral but has a discriminatory impact on certain people. For example, a minimum height requirement of 6 foot for a particular job might be applied equally to men and women, but would indirectly discriminate on the basis of sex, as women tend to be shorter than men.

Sexual harassment includes unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature in circumstances in which it could reasonably be expected to make a person feel offended, humiliated or intimidated, and a reasonable person having regard to all the circumstances, would have anticipated that the person harassed would be offended, humiliated or intimidated.

Workplace bullying may include behaviour that is directed toward an employee, or group of employees, that creates a risk to health and safety e.g. physical and/or verbal abuse, excluding or isolating individuals; or giving impossible tasks.

Equal Opportunity

Seer Data provides equal opportunity in employment to people without discrimination based on a personal characteristic protected under state and federal equal opportunity legislation. Under State legislation they include:

- age
- breastfeeding
- carer status
- disability
- employment activity
- gender identity
- industrial activity
- lawful sexual activity
- marital status
- parental status
- personal association with someone having any of these characteristics
- physical features
- political activity/belief
- pregnancy
- race
- religious activity/belief
- sex
- sexual orientation

Disciplinary Action and Reporting

Any employee found to have contravened this policy will be subject to disciplinary action, which may include dismissal as outlined in the complaint procedure below.

Employees must report any behaviour that constitutes sexual harassment, bullying or discrimination to their manager.

Employees will not be victimised or treated unfairly for raising an issue or making a complaint.

Reasonable adjustments

Reasonable adjustments are changes that allow people with a disability to work safely and productively.

Seer Data will make reasonable adjustments for a person with a disability who:

- applies for a job, is offered employment, or is an employee, and
- requires the adjustments in order to participate in the recruitment process or perform the genuine and reasonable requirements of the job.

Examples of reasonable adjustments can include:

- reviewing and, if necessary, adjusting the performance requirements of the job
- arranging flexibility in work hours (see 'flexible work arrangements')
- providing telephone typewriter (TTY) phone access for employees with hearing or speech impairments
- purchasing screen reading software for employees with a vision impairment
- approving more regular breaks for people with chronic pain or fatigue
- buying desks with adjustable heights for people using a wheelchair.

When thinking about reasonable adjustments Seer Data will weigh up the need for change with the expense or effort involved in making it. If making the adjustment means a very high cost or great disruption to the workplace, it is not likely to be reasonable. In some cases Seer can discriminate on the basis of disability, if:

- the adjustments needed are not reasonable, or
- the person with the disability could not perform the genuine and reasonable requirements of the job even if the adjustments were made.
